Ha Long Bay, located in northeastern Vietnam, is famous for its emerald waters and thousands of towering limestone islands topped with rainforests. This natural wonder spans approximately 1,500 square kilometers and comprises around 1,969 islands of varying sizes and shapes. UNESCO recognized Ha Long Bay twice as a World Heritage Site in 1994 and 2000. It attracts millions of visitors annually.

Tourists can explore the bay on traditional wooden boats, visiting attractions like the Surprise Cave and floating fishing villages. Activities such as kayaking, swimming, and hiking offer engaging experiences in this breathhtaking landscape. The bay's unique combination of geological significance and cultural heritage makes it a must-visit destination for nature lovers and adventure seekers alike.

The best time to visit Ha Long Bay is from October to April when the weather is cool and dry. Many tourists also enjoy taking overnight cruises to fully experience the bay's serene beauty under the starry sky. Local seafood dishes, such as grilled squid and seafood spring rolls, are popular among visitors. In addition to its natural beauty, Ha Long Bay plays an important role in Vietnamese culture and history. Efforts are being made to protect its environment through responsible tourism initiatives.
